

AUXIN GROUP

CALL PREP GUIDE

During your initial phone conversation with an associate from Auxin Group, you will be asked a variety of questions. We hope you come equipped with your own questions to help us all get to know each other better. Together, we will identify if your experience with Auxin Group would be a good fit for you.

Resume Review:

If you have one, please dust off your old resume or put together a simple list of your experiences that have made you feel proud since you left your last position (e.g. volunteer positions, trainings, etc.). We will use this as a guide for our conversation. Some of things we will look to discuss are examples of your leadership roles, volunteer experiences, and experience with work-related technology.

Goals:

Have you thought about your next phase? Have you shaped your career goals? If you were to work with other like-minded people, what would be an ideal growth opportunity for you? What would you find important for you to shape or try so you can stretch and grow by working with others within Auxin Group?

Take Time to Think About the Following:

- Are you self-directed?
- Do you thrive working with others?
- Do you take initiative to find solutions?
- How have you pursued your own development?
- Do you challenge yourself often?

Be ready to share thoughts and explore your readiness and interest to grow with Auxin.
